

irrigate

RAIL~VOLUTION
LOS ANGELES, CA
OCTOBER 2012

LISC
Twin Cities
*Helping people
and places prosper*

Springboard for the Arts

The Most Livable
City in America

community challenge

artists

projects that increase business prosperity
&
projects that connect and engage people

20 or 50 or 100!
(or more!)

new, positive
narrative for a
neighborhood

web of connections
across sectors/ages/
demographics

central
community
corridor
project
art
irrigate
along
artists
development
arts
new bigger
place
grant
placemaking
line
mai
partnership
city
projects
music
political gets
plan
jazz
light
makes creative
cabaret
happy
festival
receives
village
money
little public
vacant
million
memorable
installation
making
built
rail
storefront

new social capital

irrigate

www.IrrigateArts.org

Erik Takeshita, Twin Cities LISC
etakeshita@lisc.org

LISC
Twin Cities
*Helping people
and places prosper*

A stylized blue logo consisting of a downward-pointing chevron shape with a small blue dot above it.

Springboard for the Arts

The Most Livable
City in America